THE DEATH LIST STILL GROWING

It Is Now Known That Three Hundred and Sixty-Four People Perished in the Flames.

SOME ARE STILL MISSING.

The Exact Number of Lost Will Probably Never Be Known-Identification of the Dead in Many Cases Is an Utter Impossibility-The Fires Are Still Raging at a Number of Places and Probably a Large Number of People Have Perished Since Is Being Done to Relieve the Destitute People Who Escaped Death.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 4.-A Pine City special to The Pioneer Press says: Words can not tell the story of death and destruction that is revealed to the traveler on the St. Paul and Duluth from Mission Creek to two miles above the little town of Miller or Sandstone Junction. The awfulness of the desolation, which strikes upon the eye of the observer as he reaches the camp which was once the town of Hinckley, is still more strongly impressed on his vision as he journeys northward.

The smoke has lifted, revealing a landscape bare and black, the few standing trees being charred to a height of 40 feet, while the ground was of that peculiar tint of brown sand mixed with gunpowder, for the grass had been burned even to the roots. Here and there, in the bleak and dreary stretches of country, in what is now a great lone land, was seen the body of a deer, whose fleet feet had not been able to against the grim destroyer.

A Pioneer Press man accompanied Judge Nethaway of Stillwater and the members of a relief party which started on a handcar loaded with provisions, to relieve the people of Sandstone, who were reported in great distress. Two by the trank of a tree the bedy of a man which was evidently that of a lumber man. The relief party proceeded as far as Skunk Lake, where the Duluth limited train was burned. Here they found Engineer Williams in charge of a gang of men rebuilding the burned bridge. From them it was learned that the living at Sandstone had been taken to Duluth by special trains on Sunday night, and their pressing necessities relieved, so that the help from Pine City was not needed.

The party therefore resolved itself into one of search for the bodies of victims of the disaster.

The house of John Robinson was near Skunk lake, in the edge of the woods, and the family sought refuge in the cellar. There was no escape from the fire, and the parties found the bodies of John Robinson and his wife, Mary Robinson, their eldest daughter and two smaller children. All the clothing was burned from the bodies, but the victims had evidently been suffocated before the flames reached them, The hands of the oldest daughter were upraised with palms together in an attitude of prayer.

Within 600 yards of the spot where Engineer Root stopped his train was a long trench, running from the little bedy of water which proved a place of safety for the passengers on the limited, to a swamp on the lake. Following along this trench, the party came upon the partially clothed body of a man, who, in personal appearance, corresponded to the description of General Passenger and Freight Agent Otto Rowley of the Duluth and Winnipeg railread. An examination of the dead man's shirt collar showed the name O. Rowley, and it supposed that he was a passenger on the limited, and in taking to the ditch expected to reach the lake.

Other bodies found by the party were those of a man and a woman who had evidently fled from a farmhouse nearby, and the bodies of two men who are supposed to have been passengers on the burned train. The latest verified reports of the number of dead do not materially alter the former estimates.

In fact that estimate is proving remarkably exact, considering the confusion of the first day. One element that makes close figuring very difficult is the fact that bodies seen in the woods and along the track are not infrequently reported to two points and sent out from each as among its dead.

Peter that bodies seen in the woods and along the track are not infrequently reported to two points and sent out from each as among its dead.

Peter that bodies seen in the woods and along the track are not infrequently reported to two points and sent out from the company at once set to work upon the herculanean task of opening its line between Mission make them comfortable. Then, too, the tendency of the occasion, bad as it is to exaggeration. However, eliminating these doubtful elements as far as possible from its approximation, The Pioneer Press is convinced that the total is as nearly exact as possible. The number of dead at Hinckley is placed at 200. The Pioneer Press correspondent has actually counted 194 of these, and the margin allowed about all that is necessary. The figures are as follows: Hinckley, 200; Sandstone, 62: Miller, 12; between Skunk Lake and Miller, 12; Pokegama, 28; in lumber camps and scattering, estimate 50. Total, 364.

Yardmaster Dave Williams of Duluth is something of a hero himself. He is tne man who grasped the situation, acted on his knowledge promptly, and relieved the people of Sandstone. He received a message from Miller which said: "There are 150 people at Sandthe Great Disaster-Everything Possible stone without food or shelter. For God's sake get them out of there." Within an incredibly shot time an engine in charge of Yardmaster Williams was on the way to Sandstone. The entire road, after the burned district was reached, was patrohed and the engine kept up a continual , whistling so that any persons who might be near the railway could come at once to the track.

When the train arrived at Sandstone Junction, or Miller, as it is generally called, it was met by nearly the entire opulation of Sandstone and Miller. The depot and platform at Miller had been burned and there was not a house left standing anywhere in view. About 170 people were taken aboard and a messenger was sent to Sandstone who informed the people of the arrival of relief. Very few remained, and they were those with loved ones lying dead. No one was burned seriously who was not fatally injured. There was no attempt to care for the dead who lay scattered with irregularity through the streets of the town.

Everything inflammable at Sandstone was destroyed and investigations brought the number of dead at that place up to 62, with 21 people missing. Mr. Webster, the father of Mayor Lee outrun the flames, or of a human being | Webster in this town, was among the who had been absolutely powerless dead, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Webster went to Sandstone to bury his father and mother. The scene at Sandstone, as described by Mr. Webster, was heartrending. The streets of the town were only lines of sand between heaps of ashes. Within these lines lay 40 bodies scattered at random, and 22 more were found afterward in the outskirts miles above Hinckley they found lying of the town and along the hollows and marshes toward the river bank. The bodies were lying exposed to the sun and rain alike, and were rapidly becoming decomposed. They were identified, as far as possible, and will be buried as soon as possible.

The Duluth people are looking after the care and relief of the people on the line north of Hinckley. They are doing their work well and will see that no one of the living is allowed to suffer for food or clothing.

One of the marvelous circumstances of the occasion is the escape of so many cattle and horses. Many were absolutely unscathed, though no one can tell how they escaped the ordeal of fire. Others were pitifully burned and steps are tardily being taken to put them out of their misery.

The carcasses of the dead animals, which are becoming very offensive, will be put out of the way by burial or burning as soon as possible. In the afternoon, following the rain, a strong wind swept up from the south and soon the flames, which had been quenched to smouldering by the moraing showers, were again fanned to a blaze, and hundreds of columns of smoke began to ascend from the woods. The fire will not be out for many a day unless there are heavy rains, but there is no danger as the underbrush is burned out clean and there is no possibility of any spread. The intensity and insatiability of the fire can be seen from the fact that corduroy fills, where the. logs were buried under several feet of earth, are entirely eaten out, the fire eating its way through under the entire width of road.

No one of the citizens of Pine City who volunteered their aid in the work of relief did more than F. G. Weber. He took entire charge of the work at the cemetery and kept at the hideous work until all that could be done had been accomplished. Not until nightfall were his labors over, and during that time he had a succession of relays of men under him, for many sickened and had to give it up. The work progressed slower than need have been the case had Mr. Weber's working force been adequate. As it was 65 unidentified dead were interred in the trenches; 56 more were put in boxes and 18 were buried by their friends, making a total of 134 bodies handled at the cemetery. The bodies found hereafter must be buried where found. It will be impossible to move them, as they are literally falling to pieces. The first thought of the officials of the St. Paul and Duluth Railroad company was to care for the unfortunate people along its line who had lost everything they owned; the second was to restere the operation of through service between St. Paul and Duluth. The first task is well underway and its com-pletion is placed in the hands of compe-useful men who ever rose to an emergency, had been busy since the fire in handling the relief trains from St. Paul and between Pine City and Hinckley, and between Pine City and Hinckley, began a systematic attempt to straighten out the crooked rails, build bridges, repair culverts and replace the burned ties, of which there were literally thousands. With a work train and an efficient crew, Mr. Brown rebuilt the burned bridge over the Grindstone river burned bridge over the Grindstone river at Hinckley, put in new ties and worked the line gradually north.

In the meantime Yardmaster Williams of the Duluth yards had a work train pushing its way down toward the center of the difficulty, which was at the spot where Engineer Root stopped the Duluth limited on Saturday night. By noon the crew of Yardmaster Williams, the men who relieved the sufferers at Sandstone, had pushed down to this point and had the track in working order to the bridge which was burned. The force was a large one and in a couple of hours the bridge was built and the big engine of the limited, which had been left on the track, was pushed down to Hinckley. The tender of the limited engine was tipped off the track, as it was wrecked beyond repair, and was left to add to the general ruin. At 5:25 the two work trains met and at 6 o'clock last night the line was open from St. Paul to Duluth, the regular Duluth train passing Hinckley about 7 o'clock, somewhat behind time, but running through without mishaps.

During the afternoon at Pine City the arrangements for systematic aid was taken in hand by H. H. Hart of the board of corrections and charities.

On the afternoon train arrived the committee appointed by the citizens of Minneapolls, A report was submitted to the gentlemen for their approval. The report contains an estimate of the population of the burned towns as follews: Hinckley, 1,000; Sandstone, 300; Mission Creek, 100; Brook Park or Pokegama, 113; Partridge, 100.

From this number about 400 are to be deducted as dead and with a further deduction of those able to help themselves, leaving about 300 to be relieved in various ways. Contributions of transportation money, clothing and household utensils and lumber. The latter should be of all grades, from rough lumber to sash and doors. A general contribution will be recommended in all the churches next Sunday. No particular effort to force a large subscription, but the generosity of the people will be allowed to show itself in natural channels.

The following physicians accompanied the Minneapolis party; Doctors C. G. Higbee, Fitzgerald, Moore, McDonald, Leeport, Norton of Minneapolis and Parking of Everleier Their olis and Perkins of Excelsior. Their services were in great demand, and the hospital patients received the care for which many of them were sadly suffercians will accompany them.

ACTIVE RELIEF MEASURES. Contributions Called For and Where They

this city last night of all interested in the relief measures, it was decided to call on the governor to appoint a central committee to have general oversight of relief and the distribution of all donations from whatever source received. Anything sent to Gov-brnor Nelson to Tams Bixby or to Mayor Smith will be promptly forwarded. The St. Paul and Duluth road is running relief trains and carrying all supplies offered. The American Express company has announced that they would carry free of charge any supplies for any reliable relief committee in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. The railroads are getting in shape again as rapidly as possi-ble. The St. Paul and Duluth, the Eastern Minnesota, the Omaha and the Northern Pacific spent one of the busiest days of their lives in repairing roadways, scheduling trains to meet emergencies, connecting lost wires and car-ing for sufferers. Even the Wisconsin Central, which is but slightly interested, has volunteered to transport provisions to all points on its line where relief is sent, free of charge. The railroad companies have done themselves proud in the prompt and effective assistance they extended to the needy, wherever and in whatever manner it was required. The public fully appreciates their benevolence and efficiency in every instance. It is expected by Wednesday all bridges and tracks on the main lines shall have been so far repaired that no train will have to depart from schedule time.

ANOTHER TOWN THREATENED. Rib Lake Is Expected to Be Destroyed by the Flames. EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 4.-It is feared the little town of Rib Lake, in destroyed, although a fire engine and crew from Chippewa Falls have gone to fight the fire. The Rib Lake Lumber company, with mails and immense tannery, is located at that point.

The danger to Cadot is thought to be over, also to Cartwright and Rice Lake. At Long Lake, a summer resort, the cottage of the late General Ginty has been destroyed and seven other cettages threatened. At least seven railroad bridges on the north division of the Omaha between Chippewa Falls and Superior have been destroyed.

Bennett Siding in Danger. WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 4.—Fifty survivors of the fire at Partridge have been received in this city and another relief train is expected later. The suf-ferers were provided with everything to struction. The Omana and Northern Pacific lines are running trains, but the South Shore, St. Paul and Duluth and Eastern Minnesota are tied up on ac count of burned bridges.

Governor Nelson Asks For Aid.

St. Paul, Sept. 4.—Governor Nelson late last night issued a proclamation calling on all liberal and public spirited citizens, to all municipalities and to all religious and benevolent institutions of this state to take immediate attention toward securing contributions for the relief of the prevailing distress. Governor Peck Orders Relief.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 4.—Governor Peck last night instructed Colonel W. J. Boyle to purchase food and clothing for fire sufferers in Barron county. The Cumberland officials made an appeal to the governor, stating that over 50 families were sleeping out of doors.

DENSE SMOKE OVER THE LAKES. Navigation Greatly Interfered With and Several Wrecks Reported.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.-Smoke from forest fires is now making navigation dangerous on all the great lakes, except Lake Ontario. From Duluth to Buffalo reports are received of smoke so thick that one could not see on the lake more than a hundred feet. Along the south shore of Lake Superior captains could not discern objects 100 yards away. At Sault Ste. Marie all boats were being seriously delayed, captains preferring to go slow rather than take the chances of fetching up on the rocks and reefs.

Reports of stranding came in to the underwriters with too great rapidity to be enjoyable. The fires have destroyed to some extent telegraphic communication with the dangerous shore near the straits, and it is feared that more wrecks have occurred than have been reported. The losses to lake vessels on account of the smoke already exceed $40,000. East Tawas, Mich., reports the passenger steamer Ossifrage ashore between here and Alabaster. Its passengers are safe, and will be brought ashore by the tugs if necessary.

FIRES IN PENNSYLVANIA. Great Destruction Done and the Oil Fields Threatened.

Bradford, Pa., Sept. 4.—Forest fires are raging all along the line of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg railroad. Reports from all points on the narrow gauge roads state that the woods are on fire for miles, and the damage will be heavy unless rain should fall. The woods along the pike to Corydon are on fire for miles, and oil property in the vicinity of the west branch are threatened. Should the fire spread to the oil field serious consequences would result. The woods along the Bradford, Bordell and Kinzua railroad between here ing. It is the intention to start out and Smethport are reported on fire and searching parties in all directions to valuable property is in danger of being find the scattered dead, and the physical destroyed. On the big level between Mount Jewett and this city and the head of the west branch the woods are ablaze, and several oil well rigs are reported burning. At Song Bird and the Quintuple the woods are a roaring mass of flames, and valuable oil property is being devoured by the flames. As yet no loss of life is reported and the extent of damage can not be estimated. A report has just reached here from Lewis' Run, stating that the woods are ablaze and the people fighting the fire to save their property.

In the Eastern Lumber Region. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 4.-Forest fires are reported as burning fiercely in the Pine creek lumber region and valuable property is in great danger there. Owners of mills and lumber in that neighborhood who reside here have been notified that there is imminent danger of serious losses and have been advised to come on without loss of time. Commings & Heilman's bark and lumberyards have been threatened, but by backfiring, it has thus far escaped destruction.

The fire has been burning in the Babbs Creek district since Saturday, and yesterday it climbed over the mountain, and for a time it looked as if the town of Balltown, in Forest county, would be destroyed. This was also saved by hard work, and it is now said to be out of danger. At other points the woods have been backfired for a distance of six miles, in order to save property. Forest fires are also reported from Potter county.

Oil Wells Burning.

RUSSELL CITY, Pa., Sept. 4.—Word has just been received here to the effect that the forest fires have reached the Watson farm in Forest county and several oil wells are now burning. The loss will be heavy, as there are a large number of wells on this farm, and it is feared the fire will spread to adjoining oil property. There are no indications of rain, and should the wind rise it would sweep the entire field.

The woods are on fire on both sides of Taylor county, population 520, will be this place and the fire extends over an area of 20 miles.

NO SERIOUS RESULTS OCCUR.

They Are Magnified Into Battles and Both Sides Claim Victories - China Increasing Her Coast Defeuse-Chinese Officers Rewarded For Their Bravery-Movements of War Vessels of Both Governments.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Central News has received a dispatch from Shanghai stating that skirmishes between Chinese and Japanese troops are occurring at several points in Corea. The importance of these collisions is being greatly magnified by both sides, who dignify them with the title of battles. In every case victory is claimed by each side.

The same dispatch states that five war steamers will convey the troops which are to be dispatched to Formosa at once. This precaution is taken through fear that the transports will be attacked by Japanese warships which are hovering about in the hope of destroying Chinese troopships. The work of extending the Chinese works on the coast is being pushed with all possible haste.

Movements of War Vessels.

London, Sept. 4.—A dispatch to The Times from Chee-Foo says the Japanese fleet is assem led in Dautilus carbor, in southern Corea, The entrance is guarded by torpedoes. The Chinese fleet is moving between the gulf ports. The hostile armies in the vicinity of Ping-Yang are apparently quiescent.

SUSPECTED OF DOUBLE MURDER. An Iowa Tragedy Which Is Now Surrounded in Mystery.

DECORAH, Ia., Sept. 4.-John H. Cater is now in jail here strongly suspected of the murder of his wife, Mary Cater, and George Wemett, at Burrak. a village 12 miles north of Decorah. The body of Mrs. Cater was found Sunday in the barn under a pile of hay, her throat cut in two places.

When the coroner arrived he was informed that he was also wanted at the schoolhouse some distance away, where a man had been found dead with a bullethole back of one of his ears and a revolver lying on his body. The man was George Wemctt. who had until recently been employed in Cater's butchershop. Cater has for some time past been keeping company with a Mrs. Heth. This was known to Mrs. Cater, who naturally resented it. Wemett was on quite friendly terms with her and was paying some attention to her oldest daughter. Around the schoolhouse were found foot tracks, which, when compared with the shoes worn by the murdered man and by Cater were found to be identical in each case. Cater claims to think that Wemett killed his wife and then committed suicide.

ELECTION IN ARKANSAS.

The Entire Democratic Ticket Elected by From 15,000 to 20,000 Majority.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 4.—The election in this state was very quiet. It was the first state election held under the constitutional amendment adopted at the last state election, requiring the presentation of a poll tax receipt at the polls. The Democrats and Populists had full state tickets in the field, but the Republicans put forth only a gubernatorial nominee.

In some counties the Populists and Republicans fused, but in this (Pulaski) county the Republicans voted with the Democrats. The colored vote throughout the entire state was unusually light. The Democratic state ticket, headed by Hon. James P. Clark, has been elected by about 15,000 to 20,000 majority.

CAR BURGLARS DISCOVERED.

Several Arrests Made | and Wagonloads of Plunder Found.

BUFFALO, Sept. 4.—The largest and most dangerous gang of car burglars ever detected in Buffalo has just been unearthed and several arrests have been made. Mrs. Hurter, known as queen of the gang, and a man named Christopher, were first arrested and confessed, giving the names of their neighbors as confederates.

Their houses and four others on the same street were searched and wagonloads of plunder found. The entire block was living off the railroads, the woman said. The men are, or have been, New York Central switchmen. Their houses were fitted out like palaces and they had more coal than they could burn.

Unique Voyage Begun.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 4 .- Two well known young men, sons of prominent citizens, Frank Beach and Gene Hundley, left this city yesterday on a unique veyage. The young men had constructed a raft on which was built a casin. The craft will be propelled entirely by the current. Their destination is New Orleans, and the trip is the result of a bet of $1,000 that they could not reach that aim by the rever route without the that city by the river route without the aid of steam, sails or ears.

CHEAP wool and cheaper lambs have knocked the sheep market sky high. The Danville Advocate says Yates Hudson sold forty sheep there at the extremely low price of 81 cents per head. They cost him about $4 per head. And yet Yates will probably keep right along voting for free trade, just like many other fool farmers.—Public Ledger.

The price of wool could not get much lower than it did under the McKinley bill. Yates ought to keep posted. Since Democrats put wool on the free list, the price has improved, the woolen mills are getting ready for a largely increased business and the Wool and Cotton Reporter, an authority on the subject, asserts that "our manufacturers are going to make as cheap and good goods as can be made anywhere else in the world."

In speaking of the tariff bill, the Boston Globe, a conservative paper, makes the following predictions:

First—The Democratic disappointment on the Senate tariff bill will be only than everit mounted during the operative Monday as Principal of the Female period of any tariff in the history of the republic.

Third—No general readjustment of customs duties will be effected again for at least ten years.

Fourth—The several glaring defects of the new law can and will be remedied by separate acts without annoyance to the general business of the country.

While the Senatorial compromisers undeniably have marred an ideal, they yet have passed a practical measure of tariff reform, more liberal in its reductions than any revision that ever was placed upon the statute books.

We hope the Globe's predictions will prove true.

A Great Orator.

We venture the assertion that General Gordon can not in the halls of Congress do his country more valuable service, than he is doing, in instilling into the hearts of thousands of people, North and South, a higher appreciation of the gallant men who fought under Grant and Lee; a deeper veneration for American valor and unswerving fidelity, and a warmer love and a loftier pride in this great and reunited country.

Without a taint of disloyalty to the cherished traditions of the South; without a word of offense to the champions of Northern opinion, he kindles anew the love of every follower of Lee; he deepens the admiration of every Federal survivor for the military genius and manly magnanimity of Grant; and he awakens in both a lofter patriotism and more consecrated devotion to "this nation" which, in the immortal words victim your scribe ever saw. of Abraham Lincoln, "under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, which shall not perish from the earth."-Atlanta (Ga)

Miss Putnam To-night.

Miss Putnam's acting is something rare. It is grand in many of its features. It is earnest, enthusiastic, genius-like, and carries with it a power to control an audience. It is unnecessary to judge her by others. She is true to her own genius and powers, and her impersonations not only bear the stamp of a lofty superiority, but -Mr. Walter B. THE BELLEVUE BROWNS.

They Couldn't Make Things Interestin' For the Home Team Monday-Score 16 to 3.

The Bellevue Browns put up a very uninteresting game of ball Monday afternoon. They were no match for the nado insurance. Maysville team, and if the home players had just made a little extra effort they would probably have shut out the visitors.

The home team took the life out of the Browns right at the start by scoring five runs in the first inning. The fielding of the visitors was very rank, and the game throughout was lacking in the snap and spirit that make the sport enjoyable.

Wellner was in the box for Maysville, and after the first inning the visitors didn't find him very often. His support was very good, but it ought to have been Blanchard pitched for the Browns, and did fairly well, considering the fact that he was in the box in a hot game the day before and had a crippled hand.

MT. CARMEL, FLEMING COUNTY. Mr. Mace Collins was taken suddenly and violently ill at church Saturday evening. At this writing he is much improved.

Mrs. Fanny Halfhill, daughter of Wall Strode, died at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Til Wallingford, Thursday last, of consumption.

Rev. J. Reeves, P. E., closed his last quarterly meeting on this work Sunday. Saturday evening the Rev. James Word, of Robertson County, preached an eloquent and impressive sermon.

The trial of George Sadler, charged with stealing a hog, did not come off Saturday on account of the absence of an important witness for the defense. Saddler was taken back to the Flemings burg jail.

Perhaps no Magisterial district in the State will have a more hotly contested election for Justice than the Fifth in Fleming County. Each party has, probably, nominated its strongest man. Robert Marshall, the Democratic nominee, is a man against whom nothing can be urged, and he has been selected by his party on account of his especial fitness for the place. J. S. Wallingford, the Republican nominee, is an intelligent, honorable gentleman, and has been selected by his party on account of his popularity. He is a representative man, and will poll more votes than any other Republican in the district.

The Johnson club came over last Saturday and played our boys and beat them badly. Score 36 to 8. They took advantage of our boys and got some of the best players from Elizaville and Flemingsburg to cope with our lads, who are green in the business.

Elder Longston, of Orangeburg, filled the pulpit of F. M. Tinder at the Christian Church for two Sundays past, very acceptably. He talks well for a young man. The Tinder meeting he reports progressing finely. Thirteen additions to Saturday night and great interest manifested.

ASKING FOR BETTER WAGES. Thousands of Tailors and Garment Workers Out on a Strike. NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—A general meeting of the Brotherhood of Tailors and Garment Workers of America was held yesterday afternoon at new Irving hall on Broome street, fully 5,000 being present. Addresses were made by C. F. Reichers, secretary of the United Garment workers of America, Meyer Schoenfield, Henry White, Herman Robertson and Abram Harrison. All the speakers inveighed bitterly against the present wage system.

"It is not a question of money alone," said Mr. Harrison. "We are being worried and ground to death. We are already working for nothing, and if we don't assert ourselves we will starve.' The following resolutions were adopted: "We ask for the abolition of the task system for 10 hours' work a day and that the shops be put in proper condi-tion. We demand that the public and press give us their sympathy, because we want to work like men and not like slaves, and we believe that our demands Probably 8,000 garment makers al ready have quit work in New York and Brooklyn. Before the week is out it is estimated that there will be from 25,000 to 30,000 people out of work, either as strikers or because of the strike.

The movement is not confined to New York and Brooklyn. In Philadelphia, Boston and other large cities the people have either quit work or have decided to quit in the event of a failure to get better wages, by some near at hand date. It bids fair to be a general strike on the part of the sweatshop workers.

our market this week has been irregular and somewhat easier on the common and medium grades of burley leaf, no doubt the result of the recent rains which extended over the greater part of the tobacco belt. The fine grades remained active at the high prices which have been current for some time past.
